

My Ring

Kazuhito Komiya

It happened on February 1999.

I went to a business trip to Ipswich from Cambridge on Saturday 13th February. Ipswich is the county town of Suffolk, located on about 90 km east of Cambridge. When I came back to Cambridge from the business trip in the evening, I found my wedding ring was missing. Since I had lost 15 kilos in UK, my finger had become thinner. So, I went out to look for my wedding ring on the following day, on Sunday 14th February (St. Valentine's Day).

I was walking around the street in Ipswich while searching my ring. But I reached the last building I had visited on the day before without founding my ring. I was just about to give up... At the very time, I found a shining thing on the ground near a front entrance of the building.

My ring was back to my finger!

14 February 2019